

HESWALL WINE MERCHANT & DELICATESSEN OPEN FOURTH SHOP IN CHESTER CITY CENTRE

GRAND WINE TASTING AT CATHEDRAL PLANNED

Whitmore & White, Heswall's independent wine merchant and award-winning deli at 124a Telegraph Road, opened their doors on Godstall Lane, Chester in June and have already made a splash!

Their winning formula for mixing retail with tasting experiences has been a hit with customers in Heswall, West Kirby and Frodsham. And it looks like Chester residents, visitors and those working in the city are certainly in for a treat!

Tom Scargill at Whitmore & White Chester says: "I'm Chester born and bred and have always wanted to be part of any exciting and individual ventures happening in the city. Boutique, independent businesses are an important part of keeping Chester vibrant. It's a beautiful city and a natural destination for shoppers, so exploring exciting new food and drink should be part of the Chester experience.

The unique thing Whitmore & White offers to Chester is that all this fine food and drink is under one roof. This is best represented by our superb hampers and I think that come Christmas they're going to be the must have gift for every Cestrian food and drink lover, or local business hoping to wow clients."

Whitmore & White are passionate about wine, so much so that they have become an Approved Programme Provider with the Wine and Spirits Education Trust (WSET) levels 1 and 2. This is an accredited, globally recognised qualification in wines, spirits and sake for professionals and enthusiasts alike. So, if you'd like to start a career in the drinks industry or simply want to know your Gewürztraminer from your Barolo then drop into the store to find out more.

I'm most excited about our upcoming portfolio tasting at Chester Cathedral on 20th September. What a perfect venue to announce ourselves to the city!

Tickets for the Cathedral tasting are available from Whitmore & White in Heswall at £15 each, or you can book online at www.whitmoreandwhite.co.uk
