

Robert Quinn Funeral Directors

Local Family Funeral Director?

Families should know who they are working with when arranging a funeral for their loved one; a great amount of trust is placed in us at a vulnerable time.

Most things in life are becoming centralised and depersonalised: local radio, shopping, eateries - chains are everywhere you look. Sadly the funeral profession is no different. Recently a number of Wirral family businesses are now owned and run by large groups.

How can you tell who is who?

To be honest it's not easy as they prefer to keep it under the radar. However if, as we do, they have SAIF membership this guarantees that they are independently owned and run – look for the logo. If in doubt, ask.

Does it matter?

Families we have worked with tell us it does.

As independent funeral directors Robert and Karen...

- deliver a high quality, personal and friendly service
- are more sensitive and flexible to your individual needs
- have competitive and transparent pricing, and are less expensive than groups
